

PRES. HUTCHINS GIVES STUDENTS A GOOD ADDRESS

Ann Arbor, June 26.—University hall, Sunday night, was filled for the annual baccalaureate address by President Hutchins to the graduating class and their friends.

A fine musical program was furnished, consisting of several selections on the Columbian organ by Earl Moore of Lansing; an anthem sung by a picked choir of 20 voices drilled for the occasion by Prof. Howland of the University of Music, and a bass solo by Prof. Howland.

Preceding the address, President Emeritus Angell spoke briefly to the assembled students and their friends, in his usual gracious manner which none who ever knew Dr. Angell can forget in him.

President Hutchins's text was, "The Spirit of the Times and What It Means to the University Graduate." He said:

"Knowledge and appreciation of the spirit of the times and ability to adapt one's self thereto are certainly necessary, not only to a high degree of success in the calling of one's choice but also for the proper discharge of the obligations that every educated person owes to the public. And so it has seemed to me that in this last word I cannot serve you better than by submitting for your practical suggestions in regard to conditions that characterize the present and pointing out to you the bearing that they may have upon your future as university graduates.

"Permit me first, however, to make it clear that in urging that you get into touch and sympathy with the present, I do not for a moment contend that you should in all things accept the present as representing ideal conditions or that your thought and acts should in all things, or in any considerable number of things, conform to the dominant spirit of the times. In very many ways the dominant spirit is undoubtedly wrong, radically wrong.

"It goes without saying that the business world of today sanctions methods that are utterly indefensible. In the professions practices are tolerated that are, to say the least, of doubtful propriety. And must not infrequently be opposed, and vigorously opposed, by high-minded and patriotic citizens if the integrity and stability of our institutions are to be maintained. As a matter of fact, much of your time and much of your energy must, if you do your full duty to yourselves and to the public, be spent in efforts to correct present tendencies and present evils and to improve present conditions.

"When I urge, then that you know your environment and get into close touch and sympathy with the things of today, my thought is not that you should conform necessarily to whatever is, but that your relation to what is should be so intimate and your attitude toward the life and problems of the day so sympathetic, that your efforts, both private and public, may be from the viewpoint of the present. To put the matter differently and briefly, I urge that you keep up with the times in knowledge and in sympathy in order that you may be the better prepared to meet and solve the problems of the times.

"Go into the world of life with the determination to spend some time each year in gratuitous service for the public good. While all of you may not become leaders in a large way in public thought, every one of you can become an uplifting, directing and, when necessary, a restraining force in the community in which he lives. For the wise solution of the day we must certainly rely to a very large extent upon the good sense and intelligence of the educated men and women of the land."

SAYS WIFE SMOKED HIS CIGARS AND FORCED HIS MONEY

St. Louis, Mo., June 26.—That his wife smoked his cigars without his permission and gave the "snips" to his 18-year-old son to finish is the burden of Harry G. Schuermann's testimony in his suit for divorce in Judge Wurdeman's court at Clayton, Mo. Schuermann further declared his wife, to whom he has been married nineteen years, contracted the habit of chewing coffee.

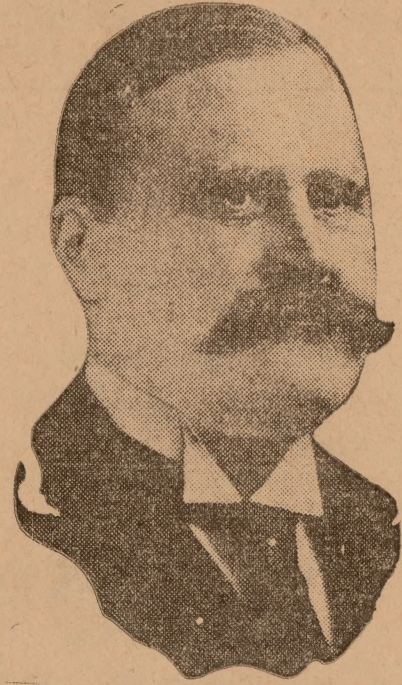

The testimony throughout was characterized by such an outburst of slang that the judge frequently was called upon to demand a clearer interpretation. The husband also testified he gave his wife a check for $500 at the point of a pistol. The check represented their savings.

He also charged she took a picture of his mother from the wall and buried it in the back yard.

MADERO ISSUES TAX MANIFESTO

Says Rich and Poor Must Bear Burden Equally.

PROMISES JUSTICE FOR ALL

Endeavors to Establish Friendly Footing for Federal and Insurrecto Soldiers to Meet Upon—Talks to the Newspapers.

Mexico City, June 26.—Francisco I. Madero has issued another manifesto to the Mexican people in which he says that the taxes are to be distributed equally among the rich and the poor.

However, while waiting to inaugurate the new laws he will call on the governors and other officials of the states to see that small landholders and merchants are taxed lightly, while the heavier burdens are put on the large land owners. Capitalists of foreign nativity are to receive absolute protection, but Madero hopes they will not attempt as formerly to try to influence the governing authorities in any way to secure special privileges, as he says it will be useless.

He assures the people that justice will not be for the fortunate and privileged along with injustice for the ordinary citizen as heretofore, but that the poorest worker will have the same rights as the rich employer. He promises to investigate the doings of the Diaz administration and that which is being done not in accordance with law will be remedied and the guilty will be punished.

He recommends to the revolutionary soldiers that they treat the defeated federals as brothers, as in the whole war the federals sympathized with the insurrection movement and believed that the triumph of the Diaz government would be calamity to the country. Naturally, says Madero, the federals had little interest in winning battles, and the federal army was not really defeated. Defeat came only to the dictators who were driving them. How was it possible, he says, that the federals could win when they even preferred to die that Mexican people might regain their liberty.

He hopes that the press will co-operate with him frankly and sincerely, but says that as a simple citizen or president, or as the occupant of any office into which he might come, he will consider as friends only that part of the press which criticizes the faults that he commits, and shows him his errors. He will look with suspicion upon newspapers which approve his every act.

The German government, through the local ambassador, has demanded that Mexico investigate carefully and fix the responsibility of the death of a German named Reitter, who was killed by Maderistas in the state of Hidalgo.

Allard, Madero's candidate, has been named provisional governor of the state of Vera Cruz. It is the first step in the settlement of the difficulties which have troubled the state for some weeks. The competition for governor was directly the cause of the fight at Jalapa last week in which fifty were killed. Jalapa is in mourning, all houses and stores being draped with crape.

DEAD BODIES OF TWO

FUNK TESTIFIES IN LORIMER CASE

Unfolding of Main Story Is Now Beginning.

HINES CALLED TO FOLLOW

Then Edward Tilden, Governor Deane of Illinois, Roger Sullivan and Others Less Important Will Be Heard.

Washington, June 26.—Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company, took the witness stand before the senate committee which is investigating the charges of corruption in the election of Senator William Lorimer of Illinois. Mr. Funk's testimony is the first direct evidence obtained by the committee as to the alleged request for a contribution of $10,000 from the Harvester company, which Mr. Funk charges was made by Edward Hines of the Edward Hines Lumber company. The testimony taken by the committee last week was preliminary and collateral to the main line of the investigation.

With Mr. Funk's testimony, however, the committee begins to unfold the main story of the allegations of bribery and corruption in the election of Senator Lorimer.

Mr. Funk will be followed by Edward Hines, who is charged with having requested the $10,000 from Mr. Funk. Edward Tilden, president of the National Packing company, who, Funk says, was mentioned by Hines as the receiver of the alleged $100,000 corruption fund, will also be heard this week. When these three witnesses have been heard, the main story of the inquiry will be revealed to the members of the committee and subsequent witnesses will be called to amplify and corroborate Funk's story. It is probable that Governor Deane of Illinois and several other less important witnesses will testify this week.

A subpoena has been issued for Roger Sullivan, Democratic national committeeman from Illinois, whose name was mentioned by Herman H. Kohlsaat, editor and publisher of the Chicago Record-Herald. Mr. Sullivan has never appeared before either the senate committee on privileges and elections, or the Helm committee of the Illinois legislature which investigated the Lorimer election last winter. While the members of the committee do not know whether or not Mr. Sullivan has any valuable information on the subject, Chairman Dillingham thought it advisable to summon him on account of his prominent position in Illinois Democratic circles.

A sufficient number of witnesses have been subpoenaed to keep the committee in session here for more than two weeks. Chairman Dillingham wishes to hear as many witnesses as possible in Washington, so that the committee will not have to be away from Washington for any great length of time while the senate is in session. It was the original plan to begin hearings in Chicago on July 5 next. It is not likely, however, that the witnesses who have been summoned here will be able to complete their testimony before the end of next week. Later the committee intends to convene in Springfield, Ill., to take testimony of members of the legislature which elected Lorimer.

Columbus, O., June 26.—The fight expected in the trial of Rodney J. Diegel, sergeant-at-arms of the state senate, accused of abetting bribery, when the state introduced a transcript of the "dictagraph" evidence did not materialize, and there was little to enliven the criminal court room of Judge E. B. Kincaid.

The transcript of the notes of conversations heard by a court stenographer in a hotel room between detectives and members of the legislature was admitted without objection by the defense, after certain names were stricken out and the words "a voice substituted." The defense also admitted without contest that a note introduced as evidence was written by Senator L. R. Andrews.

POWER PLANT DESTROYED

Commonwealth Company's Station at Trowbridge Burned by Lightning.

Allegan, Mich., June 26.—During a severe electric storm the large dam and power plant belonging to the Commonwealth Power company at Trowbridge, four miles southeast of Allegan, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The building was in flames a few minutes after being struck and the flames could not be checked because of the danger in going near the high power dynamos. All the buildings and machinery were completely destroyed, causing a loss which will run to more than $125,000.

This plant furnished power for the Allegan, Otsego and Plainwell lighting systems and also the Kalamazoo and Battle Creek street car systems and its destruction will cause a great deal of trouble. Work will be begun immediately transferring the power for these cities to the other dams belonging to this company, but until it is completed Allegan will be left in darkness.

FIREMEN WERE CALLED TWICE SATURDAY NIGHT

The fire department were called out twice Saturday night, at one of the fires the house and contents were completely destroyed and at the other only slight damage was done.

At 8:30 they were called to the home of Max Robbins on Maple street. A member of the family had lighted a match and gone to a medicine cupboard to get some medicine. A bottle of furniture polish which was on the top shelf was upset and ran down the curtain and quickly ignited. The cupboard and the woodwork surrounding it was soon in flames but the quick work on the part of the department prevented any heavy loss.

At 12:30 the company was called to the corner of Hawkins and Jefferson streets, the residence of Robert Brooks. The fire had such a start before the alarm was turned in that the house and contents were entirely destroyed. The family were all away fishing at the time and the cause is unknown but it is thought that it was of incendiary origin.

ORIGINAL CLEAN-UP PLAN SUCCESSFULLY INTRODUCED IN LITTLE SOUTHERN CITY

Mart, Texas, June 26.—Mart, Texas, has the most original "clean-up" plan in the country and perhaps the one most popular with the people. This little city has adopted the honor roll system, which is being conducted by the Commerce Club and Ladies' Civic League. Once each week, a joint committee from the two organizations makes a trip of inspection. Stores, offices, and banks are visited and graded much after the fashion as a teacher grades examination papers. The report is then published in the local paper. The plan has created so much rivalry between the different business concerns that Mart is fast becoming one of the cleanest towns in the country. Efforts at cleanliness are not confined alone to the buildings, but to adjacent grounds and streets in front. The "clean-up" spirit is not alone in the business district, but a most healthful emulation exists in the residence sections, and to use the expression of an Kansas City traveling man who recently visited Mart: "The whole town is as neat as if it had just been laundered."

PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES USE 750,000,000 PAIRS OF HOSE ANNUALLY.

San Antonio, Texas, June 26.—The people of the United States use, according to the recent statistics sent out by the government, 750,000,000 pairs of hose annually, an average of almost eight pairs to the person. Cotton supplies ninety per cent of the raw material used in manufacturing them. One fifth of the cotton of the world is grown in Texas, which shows that the Lone Star state contributes very largely to clothing the feet of the nation.

ITCH IN THE MUNICIPAL PALM.

Mt. Clemens seems to be suffering from that loathsome disease, the itching municipal palm. There is nothing like this itch to palsy the life of an individual, and it is equally deadly upon the wholesome, progressive life of a municipality. Mt. Clemens appears to be making the old mistake which other cities have made of endeavoring to protest law-forbidden vice for price. She is beset with temptations. She has developed her fine mineral water possibilities. But she seems to have dropped into the trap of encouraging the diseased sport to come to their city and boil out his sins.

French Lick made this mistake. Mt. Clemens, in following this course, is offending most of its citizens and offending the state at large and compelling the state to come to the rescue in counteracting the anarchy it is teaching and encouraging. This class of diseased sports toll not, neither do they spin. Their low ideals have developed an acquired appetite for liquor and nicotine and lasciviousness. Gambling, the bowling house, drug dope—every harmful contaminating influence calls for lust and the opportunities of getting lured unlawfully, while they are trying to heal the deep-seated sores of sin. And in catering to this class, the caterer ever catches the "itch"—if not something worse.

LET US APPROPRIATELY OBSERVE INDEPENDENCE DAY.

A week from tomorrow is Independence Day. We believe it would be better to call it "Independence Day" and thus suggest in the name something of the significance of the day. "The Glorious Fourth" seems to suggest, today, little more than a big noise. Judging by the way the day is usually observed, we seem to have forgotten the reasons for the day's existence, and the average urchin of today, if cross-examined on "Why this day?" would probably go to pieces summarily. This is all wrong. We do not want to rob the boy or the girl of a reasonable participation in a glad demonstration; but they ought to know what they are demonstrating and they ought to know this first, and then they ought to demonstrate in a sane and safe way—a way sane and safe for themselves and for their playmates and for the neighbors round about.

The day ought to be observed, in other words, in such a way as will not lose sight entirely of the rights of others. It is a fine opportunity for an exhibition of their finer, cultured sensibilities, a finer regard for the rights and the comforts and the pleasure of others. There may be somebody very sick next door, or in the same block. Your unrestrained demonstration may cause them intense pain throughout the day. It may indeed shorten their lives. Look about you then and have a nobler regard for others.

Remember, too, that a horse is a vain thing for safety. It was when the Bible was written and still is. Be careful then. There are lives quite as precious to them as yours is to you behind the horse.

We are glad to see a wave of return to first principles sweeping over the country in regard to a proper observance of Independence Day. Those who can regulate the observance of the day are chiefly three: The merchants who buy the fireworks. He can buy only sane and safe fireworks. The parents of the boy or girl yet in their minority can have their say about what kind of fireworks should be purchased and used. And the city authorities, in the exercise of their authority to protect the public health and safety, can throw about the observance of the day sane and safe restrictions. And the boy and the girl can refuse to employ anything that would not harmonize with the action of a gentleman or lady in the presence of others, whose rights are equal to theirs.

And in the doing of all this, we are simply cooperating for the attainment of two principal ends: First, the proper observance of Independence Day, a keeping alive of a realization and appreciation of the great sacrifice which has been made, in order that this nation might be at all; and the continuing of the sacrifice which is necessary if this nation is to continue to be at all. And, secondly, to prevent injury to life and limb through the explosive demonstration of the day.

We are tempted to be careless so long as our own children do not get harmed, but, if the blow happens to strike us, as it struck 1813 people last year and 2405 people year before last, we will then, when it is too late, begin to realize the unnecessary horror of it all. Let us all, then, for the common good, and for our own individual protection and good, cooperate in seeing that we do observe, sanely and safely, Independence Day in Ypsilanti.

It ought not to be necessary for any considerable community to have to go away from home to observe the day. It ought to be a wholesome, healthful and helpful holiday for the people of each community.

If you will turn to the Woman's Home Companion for June, you will find a whole page of illustrations of how other communities have observed the day sanely and safely. The following is an illustration of some of the good things that have been done by a town down in Pennsylvania.

"The pretty town of E— was visited by a fire which burned about half the business section, and gave warning of the necessity of fire equipment. So, instead of buying expensive fireworks, the town folk devoted their money and their energies to an entertainment in which everybody could participate for raising money for this purpose.

"The program began at 4 a. m. with a fire whistle. At 10 o'clock there was a Fantastic Parade, with prizes for the best costumes. At 12 o'clock a splendid dinner was served under the trees bordering each side of the street, at thirty-five cents a plate. Free entertainment followed, one feature being a "get-ready-quick" action between three sections of the fire company. The quickest was awarded the hose and reel presented by the manufacturer from whom the equipment was purchased. Supper was served, also ice-cream and cake until 10 p. m.

"This celebration struck me as being about ideally patriotic. All the people were brought together for a patriotic purpose; all rendered patriotic service; all could enjoy or engage in the amusements; the common exchequer was replenished in a pleasurable way to the amount of one thousand dollars, and every man, woman and child was benefited, property being better protected. No distracting noises were allowed, but the pretty pyrotechnical displays lighting the sky at intervals, from private houses, were sufficient reminder of the gunpowder element of patriotism.

"Instead of loosing bedlam on the Fourth of July, let us commemorate the birthday of our independence in a concentrated move for deliverance from some menacing evil. There are baths, sanitary improvements and hospitals to be helped, and disease and distress to be combated. Every city and town needs something for the comfort or benefit of the public that the common funds cannot supply. Divide the city into sections, and let each work for some immediate benefit for that ward. It will succeed."

Isn't there a suggestion in this for us?

Couldn't we cooperate on Independence Day in the investment of our Fourth of July money, or a goodly share of it, in such a way as would contribute to some needed, community improvement? If the city will safeguard the day and some of the money we would expend individually could be spent in a collective way and more in quantity and better in quality fireworks might be displayed in the evening in the public parks or other central place, wouldn't everybody get more and better enjoyment out of the day than in the old way? And the new way would contemplate a wholesome program of sports and an address, brief but appropriate, with much of the needed educational value.

This is a college city, and we ought to be in the advance line along these matters. There will probably be 1,000 or more teachers here from all over the country. We have the opportunity of sending them back to their homes with new ideas about a proper, sane and safe observance of Independence Day. Let's do it. What do you think about it? Let us hear from you.

Ypsilanti, Mich., June 19, 1911.
To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council of the City of Ypsilanti: Gentlemen—I would hereby recommend that a cement walk be built on the south side of Forest avenue, No. 304, Miss Sweeting. There is a bad hole in the end of this walk, caused by upturned tree and it is very dangerous.

That a cement walk be built on the south side of Cross street, Nos. 306 and 310, Burt. This is a tar walk in bad condition.

That a cement walk be built on the north side of East Cross street adjoining O. E. Thompson & Sons' factory. This is a badly broken flag stone walk. It was recommended last year and is in still a worse condition.

Respectfully submitted,
WM. B. SEYMOUR,
Inspector.

On motion of Ald. Moore, referred to Committee on Streets and Walks.
Ypsilanti, Mich., June 19, 1911.

COMMISSIONERS OF PUBLIC WORKS.

Ypsilanti, Mich., June 19, 1911.

Regular meeting of the Commissioners of Public works held on the above date.

Present, Commissioners Webster and King.

Clerk instructed to present to the Council recommendation for the extension of the Upper Ellis street sewer west to property of D. B. Waterman, about 250 ft.

Claims presented were audited. Commissioners adjourned.

FRANK JOSLYN, Clerk.

Badge of Servitude.

Would-be aristocrats in America who are wont to decorate the hats of their coachmen with cockades are probably ignorant of the fact that from a European standpoint the cockade is only used to show that the wearer is a servant of royalty. Across the water the cockade can be legally worn only by servants of royalty, including naval and military officers, diplomats, lieutenants, deputy lieutenants, and high sheriffs of counties. As worn by these, the color is black. The black cockade was introduced in England by the house of Hanover, although previous thereto it had been worn in various colors. A scarlet cockade was in vogue during the time of Charles I. His son adopted white, the badge of the Jacobites, while orange was the color of William of Orange. Orange remains the color in the Netherlands. Black and white is the color in Germany, black and yellow in Australia, tricolor in France, scarlet in Spain, blue and white in Portugal—that is before the revolution—and black, red and yellow in Belgium. The word "cockade" comes from the French "co-cardé," originally applied to the feathers of the cock worn by Croatian soldiers serving in the French army.

ATHLETICS HAVE BEST INFIELD

Quartet of Philadelphia Americans Easily Greatest In Game.

THEY RARELY MAKE MISTAKES

Davis, Collins, Barry and Baker Are Instinctive Players—Cub Infield Broken Up—Old Baltimore Four Were Great.

The Philadelphia Americans' infield—Harry Davis, Eddie Collins, Jack Barry and Frank Baker—is the greatest in baseball today, succeeding the wonderful Cub machine of Chance, Evers, Tinker and Steinfield. The old Cub quartet has been shot to pieces. Chance is out of the game with nervous trouble; Steinfield is gone; Tinker is the only one left.

The old Chicago infield was the greatest since Jack Doyle, Herman Long, Hugh Jennings and Johnny McGraw starred with the Baltimore Orioles. The Baltimore four were the greatest up to their time; then came the Cubs and now the Athletics.

Some baseball experts even have gone so far as to say that the Athletics' infield is better than that of the Cubs, but that is debatable. Chance always has been and still is a better first baseman than Harry Davis.

Where and how does the Athletics' infield surpass all others of the American and National leagues?

The answer: There are no three infielders on any other team who combine with baseball intelligence as do Collins, Barry and Baker. These three players go through game after game without playing a single ball on the wrong bound, and they are fast and have good arms. There never was an infield trio that played a ball—that bounds, or "hops," and grass cutters better than Collins, Barry and Baker, and it is doubtful if any three players on one team ever played these balls as well.

Collins and Barry gauge a ball that "hops" to them better than any other pair of infielders at second base. Evers and Tinker at their best may have equaled Collins and Barry, but that is the best the Cub pair ever did. Neither Collins nor Barry misjudges speed or length of a bound once out of fifty times enough to bother in throwing the ball. They get every ball that "hops" on the right "hop," which is at the right height to make the play safe and to be ready to throw the instant after the ball lands in their hands.

Baker cannot play the right "hop" as Collins and Barry do because he has neither room nor time at third base to come in or go back on the ball, but he handles less half "hops" than any other third baseman. A half hop is a short bound.

Connie Mack says Collins did not have to be taught to play a ground ball right, and Mack says Barry learned in a few weeks.

Connie claims Collins is the greatest instinctive player of his time or any other time. From the first Collins did the right thing at the right time.

"If it weren't that I might appear greedy I'd name Barry and Baker as the next greatest instinctive players," says Connie.

NATIONAL A. A. U. CHAMPIONSHIPS

Annual Contest For Titles to Be Held In Pittsburgh.

WESTERNERS TO MAKE BID.

Crack Athletes of the Middle and Far West Will Compete In the Principal Events—Easterners Will Not Have Easy Sailing.

That eastern athletes will not have all smooth sailing at the national championships to be held at Forbes field, Pittsburgh, June 30 and July 1, is evidenced by the expressed intention of the big clubs of the middle and far west to make bids for the honors.

From Seattle the greatest track and field performers of that section will be sent, including champions of two years ago, who failed to make the New Orleans series held last year. Included in this bunch will be W. Martin, who won in 1909 the "hundred" and who was a strong factor in last year's events.

Then there will be Edmundson, the half miler, who took the measure of Harry Gissing, New York Athletic club, at that distance, incidentally beating him ten yards in the slashing time of 1 minute 55.15 seconds. Another great bidder for honors will be Walter Thomassen, formerly of the winged foot club, a "six-three" man in the high jump and one who probably will make great inroads in the point getting of the New York Athletic club in that particular event.

Joe Malcolmson, the low hurdle title holder of 1909, which honors he won when he beat Harry Hillman in Seattle, will again be a competitor, ready to take the measure of the pick of eastern timber topers. In his efforts he will be aided by W. Edwards, who beat the noted Smithson at the Portland exposition in time said to have been 15.15 seconds. As a matter of fact, he has since failed to live up to that supposed performance, and despite the advantage of having been under the tutelage of Mike Murphy at the University of Pennsylvania, where he is a student, he was taken into camp recently at the New York Athletic club games by Jack Eller of the Irish American Athletic club. Others in the squad will be B. Gish, a clever all around performer, who will compete in the broad jump and the discus events. Philbrook, formerly of Notre Dame and a good weight man, will also carry the colors of the Seattle club.

For the middle west Ralph Craig will do battle, and if he is only in a semblance of his form, as shown at the intercollegiate championships, he already has both the "hundred" and "two-hundred" yard races practically tucked away for the year. It is really a treat to see this athlete run. Not the best man in the world getting away from his mark, he is certainly a fast runner when he gets into action, apparently running over his field from sixty yards home in the short sprint. In the "two-hundred" he overtops any amateur the world ever saw, with the possible exception of Bernie Wefers, who holds with the westerners the world's best mark—21.15 seconds—for the distance. Further than this, he can step a rattling quarter, and he ought to do exceedingly well if he were to try a broad jump.

Of course in the east there are several clever performers, each of whom has been tried by competitive fire and rarely found wanting. Both the New York Athletic club and the Irish American Athletic club will use every endeavor to attempt to stem the tide of a possible western flood and promise to go into the Smoky City with the best teams in their history. Forbes field, the home of the Pittsburgh baseball club, will be the scene of the contests. It is being made over into a first class track, which just skirts the concrete stands in its circuit. Mike Murphy, the Pennsylvania trainer, has charge of its construction and asserts that he will have a fine track. It will be a fine track.

Smuggling Bracelet In Photograph. Of smuggling tricks there is no end. The Bangor (Me.) customs officials had a new dodge sprung on them one day recently in an attempt to get a gold bracelet through without the payment of duty.

Some one took a lumber of baseball photographs, but before tying them together to make them appear as a bundle of photos he carefully hollowed out a hole in the center and deposited the bracelet therein. A superficial examination of the package would have caused one to think that it was simply a bundle of photographs and allowed it to proceed without question.

Pitcher Wood Has One Failing.
Joe Wood of the Boston Americans is one of the greatest pitchers in the world of baseball, but he has a fatal weakness. He can't stand prosperity. When he makes a name for himself along with Ed Walsh and Walter Johnson he wants to celebrate his achievement.

Miller Huggins, Sensational Infielder.
There are Collinses and Lajoies presiding over the second bag, but small Miller Huggins of the St. Louis Nationals must be taken into account among those who cover that position in a way which is a delight to the eye and an annoyance to the enemy.

Free for Stomach and Bowels

We are in receipt of letters from Mrs. Eva Gaskins, 304 Madison St., Topeka, Kans., and Mr. P. H. Gavelas, Wagoner, Okla., as well as many others, telling about the wonderful results they have secured in the cure of their stomach and liver troubles by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

This remedy, as all readers doubtless know, has been before the public for a generation and is now being more extensively used than any other remedy for stomach, liver and bowel complaints. According to reliable testimony, it seems to be a very quick and lasting cure for constipation, indigestion and dyspepsia, liver trouble, biliousness, headaches, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, drowsiness after eating and similar disorders. It is a liquid with tonic effect, and so mild and gentle in action that a child as well as a grown person can take it, in fact, it has no equal for children, women and old people.

It arouses the flow of gastric juices, and by a peculiar action trains the stomach and bowel muscles to again do their work naturally, and in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with. A free sample bottle can be had for trial by sending your address to the doctor, for in this way Mrs. Gaskins, Mr. Gavelas and many others first learned of the cure. Later, when satisfied it is the remedy you need, do as others are doing and buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.
